

Celebrate the collaborative spirit in our community and enjoy the newest piece of public art in the City.

The City of Port Townsend will be hosting the Jaqua Sculpture Art Dedication

Saturday November 2nd at 4:00 p.m. at the Visitor Center Plaza

In conjunction with the Dedication, Northwind Arts Center and Port Townsend School of the Arts are co-sponsoring an exhibit of Jaqua's remaining metalwork, including sculpture and furniture never before available for sale.

Willene Jaqua McRae has donated all proceeds from the exhibit to the programs and future planning of Northwind Arts Center and Port Townsend School of the Arts in honor of their collaborative vision for our arts community.

The exhibit opens to the public on Saturday, November 2 at 5:30 p.m. immediately following the dedication ceremony.

A screening of The Blacksmith Boondoggle: Making "For Willene," by Port Townsend videographer Jane Champion, followed by a panel lecture titled Russell Jaqua and the New Iron Age of the American Craft Movement, will take place on Sunday, November 3, 12:00 p.m. at the Rose Theatre.
