In January 2023, the "Climate Commitment Act" (CCA), a recently enacted Washington state law, introduced a market-based cap-and-invest program aimed at reducing greenhouse gas emissions. This initiative imposes an emissions fee, reflected as a charge at the pump. This fee pays for this new State program. The charge is determined by considering the additional costs of fuel-related products and the corresponding per-gallon use to service our customers. The fee is authorized to be collected as a pass-through charge and will be spread equally across our customers.
